Plastisol-based adhesives are generally applied to screen printing and rotation printing techniques using classical methods. They supply strong and flexible bonding. They also provide longer-lasting usage thanks to its resistance to water, chemicals and abrasion.

TVP-100 is a plastisol based foil glue. It forms a transparent film after curing. Adhesion occurs immediately and there is no need for extra waiting time. It is an indispensable product for textiles thanks to its easy-to-apply and fast-drying features.

TVP-200 is plastisol-based foil adhesives suitable for high density screen printing. It is suitable for sharp lines and fine details.

TVP-201 Ink can be used in colorful high-density printing applications.

TVP-300 & TVP-301 are plastisol based puff up inks. By using different proportions, relief at the desired height is achieved. Maximum rising is achieved at 155-165°C in 1.5-2.5 minutes.
